Sue has worked in all phases – early years, primary, secondary and post compulsory – and so understands the needs of teachers teaching different age groups and subjects. Sue is an internationally renowned teacher trainer who has provided input on behaviour for educators around the world.

The Ultimate Guide to Differentiation demonstrates how teachers already differentiate much of the time, in subtle and creative ways. Sue Cowley shows that we need to understand, acknowledge and celebrate the variety of approaches that teachers already use to differentiate, as well as helping them to develop additional strategies. The book and Sue's training takes the reader through the different methods and approaches to differentiation, providing a step-by-step guide to each.

GEMMA WILKS

Jolly Phonics Training

Gemma graduated with a BA(Hons) and a PGCE specialism in Early Years. During her time at university, Gemma came across Jolly Phonics and saw the potential of the programme in her teaching. She has taught in local primary schools for the past 18 years, as well as being Strategic Leader for EYFS, KS1 and English.

Gemma has used Jolly Phonics, and then Grammar during all of her teaching years. She has experience implementing the programmes in Reception, Year One, Two, Three, Four and Five in a number of schools across Early Years, KS1 and KS2. Jolly Phonics and Grammar has never ceased to amaze Gemma! "To think that a child can begin their formal education in September with little knowledge of reading, to becoming a reader and writer after just eight weeks is phenomenal" states Gemma. She believes that reading is the key to the world. "In summary, I can offer systematic, synthetic phonics training, (SSP) for Early Readers, regardless of age. I would suggest a 1.5/2hour training session initially, which would include an in-depth look at the alphabetic code progressing from simple to complex, technical vocabulary linked to Phonics, correct enunciation all ensuring delegates have a firm grasp of the English Alphabetic code and it's complexities. We would cover the 'Body of Knowledge', (learning the phonemes, identifying sounds in words, blending, segmenting and common exception words), included in SSP and a range of strategies and teaching method concerning these. Intervention and a range of resources to aid 'struggling readers' would also be included. For the initial training the cost would be £400, this would include my supply cover costs and travel expenses. Resources would need to be photocopied by the hosting school."
